

Visiting Assistant Professor or Lecturer of Computer Information Systems Lander University

The Department of Mathematics and Computing at Lander University is seeking applicants for a one-year visiting faculty position starting in August 2024. We are seeking candidates with a strong interest and proven effectiveness in teaching and mentoring undergraduate students.

Ideal candidates should have the background and ability to teach a range of core computing courses, including introductory programming, information systems, e-commerce, system analysis and design, computer architecture, and database systems. A Ph.D. in Computer Science or a closely related field is preferred, with completion expected before or within 6 months of the hire date. However, candidates with an M.S. degree and prior teaching experience will also be considered. The position title, either Visiting Assistant Professor or Visiting Lecturer, will depend on the candidate's degree status.

The contract period is nine months. Normal teaching load for assistant professors is 12 contact hours per semester and for lecturers, 15 contact hours per semester. Responsibilities will also include departmental and college level service.

Send letter of application, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy, unofficial transcripts, and names, addresses, telephone numbers, and e-mail addresses of three references by email in Microsoft Word or pdf format, to:

Dr. Jennifer Yates at [jyates1@lander.edu](mailto: jyates1@lander.edu).

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Lander University is a tobacco-free campus. All final candidates are subject to successfully completing background requirements. Screening of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.
